

Employment Opportunity in Hong Kong for Speech-Language Pathologist

Senior Speech-Language Pathologist/Therapist (Full-time or Part-time)

ChildPsy Assessment & Learning, a private pediatric clinic located in an exclusive educational/residential community of Hong Kong, is seeking a senior Speech-Language Pathologist (Speech-Language Therapist) to accommodate an expanding practice. Our clinic is led by a Child Psychologist trained in Canada and the US. Our team consists of therapists educated and trained internationally and locally. We serve children ages one and up, with the majority between ages 2 to 12. We support evidence-based practice and a holistic approach to therapy. We strive to work closely with parents, caregivers and other professionals to support the child's learning and development.

The ideal candidate will have the following:

- Master's Degree in Speech Language Pathology or equivalent from a reputable university
- Current Certificate of Clinical Competence (CCC-SLP) by ASHA or equivalent license
- Minimum 5 years full-time experience in a school and/or a multi-disciplinary clinic setting
- Native or close to native fluency in English, preferably bilingual/trilingual in English and Cantonese/Mandarin
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills with parents and caregivers
- Ability to work independently and collaboratively
- Ability to supervise Junior Speech Therapists
- Experience in planning and conducting social communication groups
- Experience in collaborating with teachers and schools
- Passionate about working with young children and their parents
- Highly competitive salary including benefits and continuing education opportunities will be offered to the right candidate

This is a part-time or full-time position with a flexible schedule. All interested candidates are encouraged to apply, especially those currently living in Asia. We offer a competitive salary (and Hong Kong has low tax rates).
