

Speech and Language Therapist job opportunity

The Jadis Blurton Family Development Center in Central is looking for a part-time Speech and Language Therapist to join our team. The role will involve working with children and adolescents with speech, language, fluency, social and literacy challenges in our office, and potentially at schools and homes. The candidate will be expected to see clients referred to our center, as well as participating in networking activities in order to build a larger caseload. Regular supervision will be provided from the Head of Speech Therapy.

Successful candidates will have:

- A recognised degree in Speech therapy
- Strong oral and written communication skills in English (additional languages are an advantage)
- An ability to work independently
- An interest in networking and building connections in order to build their caseload
- Great rapport with children
- An ability to work afternoons and/or Saturdays

To discuss this further, please contact Stephanie Eber at seber@blurton-fdc.com